US Visitor Fingerprints To Be (Perhaps) Stored by FBI

From slashdot.org - Since 2004 many visitors to the United States have had 2 fingerprints taken under the US-VISIT scheme. Now there are new plans to extend this scheme — under the proposal all 10 fingerprints will be taken, and they will be stored permanently on the FBI's criminal fingerprint database. The fingerprints will also be made available to police forces in other countries. The scheme is due to be introduced by the end of 2008, but it will be trialled in 10 of the bigger airports initially.

Statement from Winnipeg Copwatch

Are you interested in making the Winnipeg police more accountable for their actions? So are we. Winnipeg Copwatch is a group of citizens concerned about police violence in this city. We feel that catching acts of police brutality on film will bring attention to this issue publicly, and that the presence of cameras and witnesses for interactions between the police and civilians will make the police officer think twice about using violence. We need your help. We need lots of people who are able and willing to go out there and patrol those cops. For Copwatch training, please contact wpgcopwatch@gmail.com. It's time the police force be held accountable to someone. Let's make them accountable to us!
