Info Usurpa is back! but...

we had to change things a little. first usurpa will now be coming out on mondays. second in order to leave more space for the event list on info usurpa we'll no longer be writing abridged news articles. instead we will provide links to local and global alternative news websites. we understand that the internet isn't as accessible as freely distributed printed media but we're hopeful this will encourage a new print collective to form to fill this gap. until then check out the great shows available on your local radio and visit <http://blackmask.ca/> !
